My Story

For the last 10 years I have dreamed of becoming a mother and am hopeful that adoption is the path that will help me start my family. It's difficult for me to express the joy

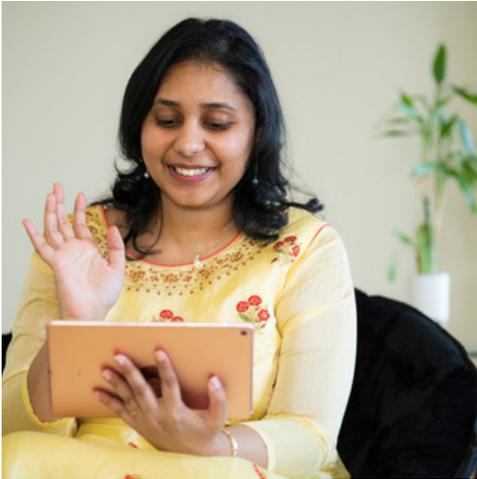

I feel as I fulfill my greatest desire, while also expressing my sincerest gratitude for you. My dream as a mother is to provide unconditional love, support their dreams, ambitions and nurture their relationship with God. I am grateful for the life I have lived and look forward to sharing my life with a baby. I look forward to getting to know you and hope this gives you a glimpse about me. Thank you for your consideration and taking the time to read my profile!

God, My family and my friends mean everything to me. I have my parents and one sister. I've always been close to my family. I'm the youngest and our home was always lively and full of laughter. I have friends who I have known since I was in high school, a strong community of friends that I met in college and after, which provides me with sisterhood and support all over the world. I put in the time and effort to nurture my relationships and have many great friends who would serve as a support should I be blessed enough to become a mother. I give when I can; the people that I love know I have a giving heart.

MY CAREER

I have been academically and professionally successful. I have a village of family, friends, mentors and loved ones who have always expected a lot from me. I have had the opportunity of graduating from one of the best colleges in the world. I work for a global technology company which has set me up to have a stable career. I am currently in a place where I feel that, I will continue to have a bright future, which makes me happy because it means that I have the financial resources to take care of myself, my family, and the people that I love.

KIDS IN MY LIFE

My love for kids is an everlasting part in my life. I started nurturing babies and kids when I was 8 years old, while my aunt was working. I still cherish those memories. My coworkers, friends and family members used to leave their kids and babies when they needed to go to work or away to take care of any personal business.

MY FAMILY

I grew up with my sister and incredibly loving and supportive parents who instilled in us the importance of God and family values. While my life journey has not included marriage up to this point, I have so much love to give to a baby. My family fully supports my decision to adopt and are eager for our new addition. My father is a very honest man who never yielded for injustice. My mother is a wonderful role model and loving mother. She will definitely be the world's greatest "Gram" and is very excited about having a grandchild to love and cherish. My sister is already excited to welcome her niece/nephew to the family. I have a very close bond with my extended family. Over the years, we have had so much fun together visiting parks, zoos, doing group tours and festivals.

Thank you

I hope that we can have a relationship and that you feel comfortable to come to me for any emotional support you need. If you find that you are comfortable with who I am and choose me to parent your baby, that would truly be a gift. I promise to provide unconditional love, to surround your baby with a large circle of family and friends, support their dreams and ambitions, and to share your story.

WITH LOVE,

Irene
