

Gina & Ryan

Nice to meet you!

Hello! We are Gina and Ryan.
Thank you so much for taking the time to learn about us! We care deeply about people, animals and the environment. People are our top priority, and family and friends are what matter most in life. We believe in treating everyone with love and respect. We promise to show that same love and respect to you and your child.

We were introduced by close friends while living in New York City almost a decade ago and have been married for six years. Ryan is from NYC originally, and Gina is from Akron, Ohio. Ryan is a Software Engineer who builds websites, while Gina is a Supply Chain executive, managing global production and logistics.

Ryan is a passionate drummer, and we both share a love for live music across all genres. Gina's career in Supply Chain has taken her around the world, and she cherishes the experiences of working with diverse people and cultures.

Our family

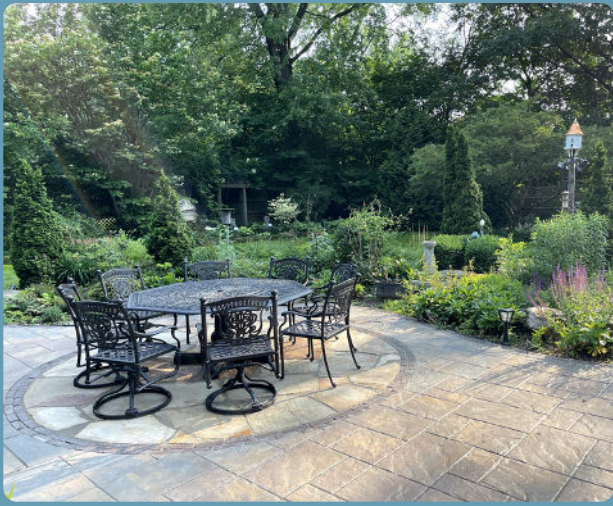

We are very close with both sides of our family. Gina's family lives in the Akron area, and we enjoy weekly get-togethers for family dinners, boat rides on Portage Lakes, and watching seasonal sports. Ryan's family is in the New York City area, so we take fun road trips there each year. We love visiting NYC to enjoy the culture and spend time with our family and friends. Ryan's parents also love visiting Ohio for peaceful weekends filled with hikes and backyard family time. In 2017, we adopted our sweet dog, Coda, who brings lots of laughter to our lives with her funny personality.

We're also lucky to have many close friends who feel like family, and we love being part of their kids' lives. Our close-knit community of friends and neighbors is incredibly supportive, and we can't wait to introduce our child to this wonderful network.

We both work from home, which gives us the flexibility to be present and actively involved in caring for a child.

A note to the family

We respect that everyone comes from different backgrounds, and we promise that your child will know their true story. Their birth mother and origins will be a part of daily conversation. We are excited about the possibility of building an open adoption and hope to work together to create a trusting relationship that is in the best interest of both your child and you. We are here to support you through this process and in your decision. Please know that we will provide a loving, nurturing home and life for your child and offer them every opportunity we possibly can to thrive and know that they are loved unconditionally.

WE LOOK FORWARD TO CONNECTING WITH YOU
