

URI and CASEY

About Us

We're Uri and Casey, and we're so grateful you're taking the time to get to know us. We can only imagine how overwhelming this decision may be, and we want you to know how much we admire your strength and love for your child. While we may not fully understand your exact journey, we promise to approach this process with open hearts, deep respect, and endless gratitude.

Becoming parents is our greatest dream. Our home is filled with laughter, adventure, and unconditional love, and we are so ready to share that with a child. We look forward to celebrating milestones, traveling together, and creating special traditions as a family. More than anything, we want to raise our child in a warm, supportive home where they always feel safe, encouraged, and free to be themselves.

Together for seven years, we've built a life filled with love and partnership. Uri's creativity and energy bring spontaneity and fun to our days, while Casey's patience and kindness provide a sense of calm and security. Whether we're exploring new places or enjoying cozy nights at home, we cherish every moment together. Our dog, Zoey, is always by our side, bringing even more love and joy into our lives. We know she'll be the sweetest companion to a child.

We are surrounded by an incredible circle of supportive friends and family who can't wait to welcome a little one into their lives. Thank you for considering us. We are honored to be a part of your journey and would love to get to know you.

Our Story

Seven years ago, we met in the most unexpected place. Casey had just started medical school, and Uri was studying Hotel Management and Tourism. Neither of us could have guessed that one ordinary night would change our lives forever, but from the moment we met, we just knew.

Our love grew quickly, and two years later, we moved in together and adopted our sweet dog, Zoey. She's been our little shadow ever since, always ready for a cuddle or to greet us with excitement when we walk through the door. Three years later, we got engaged, and soon after, we became husband and husband.

One of our greatest joys has been traveling together, exploring the world, learning about new cultures, and creating memories in places like Prague, London, Paris, Germany, Mexico, Canada, and Japan. But as much as we love adventure, the best part has always been coming home, to our cozy nights, cooking meals together, laughing until our sides hurt, and just being with the people (and little Zoey) we love most.

Adoption has always been close to our hearts, especially for Uri, who was adopted himself. Because of that, we understand firsthand just how much love and sacrifice go into this process. We know that what you're considering is not an easy decision, and we admire your strength more than we can put into words.

We've dreamed about being parents for so long, holding our child in our arms, reading bedtime stories, cheering them on at soccer games or dance recitals, and filling their life with love, adventure, and laughter. Most of all, we want them to always know they are loved, supported, and free to become whoever they are meant to be.

We can't pretend to know everything you're feeling right now, but please know this: if we are lucky enough to be chosen, your child will grow up in a home filled with unconditional love, kindness, and joy. They will always know where they came from, and they will always know how deeply they are loved, not just by us, but by you, too.

Thank you for taking the time to get to know us. No matter where this journey takes you, we're honored to be part of it. ❤️

What I love about...

URI

Uri is my best friend, and I feel so lucky to have him as my partner. He is incredibly thoughtful, dependable, and full of love. He has a way of making everyone feel special, whether it's our friends, our dog Zoey, or even a complete stranger.

He loves being outdoors, playing games with friends, and spending time at the beach. I've always had a natural connection with kids, and I know Uri will be an amazing father. His warmth, kindness, and playful spirit will fill our child's life with love, laughter, and adventure

What I love about...

CASEY

Casey is one of the most hardworking, compassionate, and genuine people I know. He's an anesthesia resident specializing in pediatric anesthesia because he loves caring for children. Despite his busy schedule, he always makes time for the people he loves. His sense of humor, adventurous spirit, and natural curiosity make every moment with him feel special. Whether we're planning our next trip, trying a new recipe in the kitchen, or simply enjoying a quiet night by the fire, Casey brings joy and warmth to everything we do.

His kindness is especially evident in the way he cares for our dog, Zoey, showering her with love and making her feel safe. As a doctor and a partner, he's a constant source of care and security. Being with Casey brings me peace – he truly completes me. I know he will be an amazing dad, full of patience, laughter, and endless love.

Special Note...

We are excited to grow our family and share our love, laughter, and adventures with a child. We deeply value connection and would love to build a relationship with our child's birth mom in a way that feels right for everyone involved. Our warmth, dedication, and natural connection with kids will fill our home with joy. Together, we will create a nurturing, fun, and supportive environment where our child will always feel safe, loved, and cherished. With us, they will see the world, as we truly believe in learning through experience. That is what makes us incredible partners and amazing future dads.
