Cory + Anthony

Open Arms Adoptions

Hello,

We're Cory and Anthony, and we're so grateful for the family we've built together. We met shortly after Anthony moved to the city for work, and before long, we knew we had found something special. We married in an intimate backyard wedding in 2020, and were able to celebrate with a larger gathering surrounded by the family and friends who mean so much to us.

In December 2024, our greatest adventure began when we welcomed our daughter, Cecilia, through adoption. Becoming parents has filled our lives with a kind of love we never fully understood until we experienced it ourselves. Cecilia brings so much joy, laughter, and wonder into our home. Whether she's coloring, playing with her friends, or cuddling with our pets, she reminds us every day how special it is to watch a little person discover the world. We feel so fortunate to be Cecilia's dads.

Our life together is filled with adventure, laughter, and the simple moments that often mean the most. We enjoy camping, skiing, and gardening, and our home is often filled with family and friends sharing good food, stories, and laughter. We love living near the city, where we can explore different cultures and all the possibilities the world has to offer.

More than anything, we hope to raise our children in a home where they always feel safe, cherished, and accepted for who they are. We want them to know that they can dream big, make mistakes, find their own paths, and always have two dads cheering them on. Our family has already grown in ways that have brought us more happiness than we could have imagined, and our hearts have room for more. We would be honored to welcome another child into our family and give them a lifetime of love, support, laughter, and adventure.

It's easy to love Cory because he is one of the kindest, most patient people I know. He makes everyone feel at home and always finds the positive, even in stressful moments. On our very first date, Cory told me he wanted to adopt a child someday. Watching him become a father to Cecilia has made that dream even more meaningful. Cory also keeps our kitchen filled with delicious smells, thanks to his love of cooking and baking. He is passionate about the arts, from owning his own singing company to enjoying Broadway shows. When football season arrives, you can count on him cheering for his favorite team. Watching Cory become a dad has been incredibly special. He brings warmth, patience, and joy to our family, and I love seeing his bond with Cecilia. I know he will encourage our children to follow their dreams and always feel loved for who they are. I feel so lucky our children get to call him Dada.

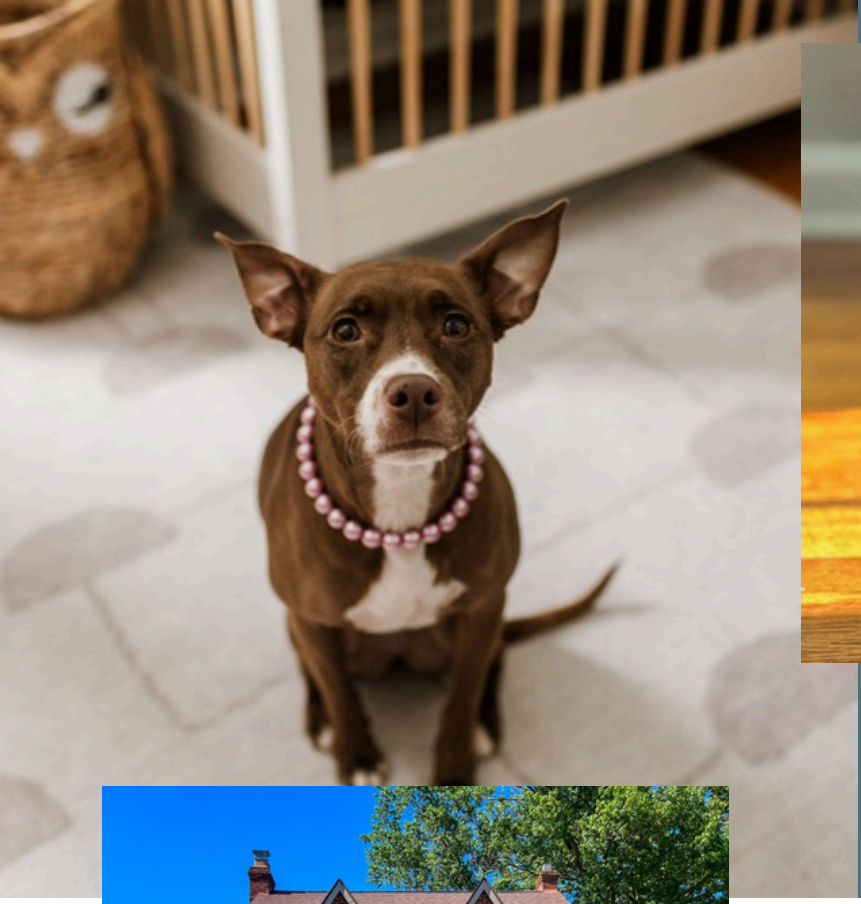

/Anthony/

It didn't take me long to realize that Anthony was the person I wanted to spend the rest of my life with! Although most people would describe us as having very different personalities, we complement each other's strengths and truly are stronger together. Anthony is a very driven person and sets ambitious goals. Whether it is his career or projects around the house, Anthony is always thinking about how things can be improved. He is also very thoughtful and always takes time to notice how the people around him are feeling. Anthony has an incredibly sharp sense of humor that keeps his friends, family, and coworkers laughing during the difficult moments that life brings. Anthony is an incredible father to Cecilia, and it's clear that Cecilia thinks that, too! I know he will be a shoulder for her to lean on and a constant source of love and support.

Our home wouldn't be complete without Franny, our four-year-old dog, and Rocky, our twelve-year-old cat. Both are beloved members of our family and bring plenty of personality to our home. We look forward to watching Cecilia and another child share the everyday fun of growing up with them.

/ Home /

We live in a two-story, three-bedroom Tudor home in a family-oriented neighborhood. In the summer, you'll often find us grilling in the backyard, soaking up the sun, or making s'mores around the fire pit.

Our neighborhood is full of young, diverse families, and Halloween is a favorite tradition, with decorations everywhere and more than 250 trick-or-treaters at our door! Just steps away is a community park with a swimming pool, playground, and tennis and basketball courts.

Above all, we want our home to be a place where our children feel safe and free to be themselves. Whether we're celebrating holidays, spending quiet evenings together, or welcoming loved ones through the door, we want our children to always know they are loved.

Thanks

We know that considering an adoption plan is deeply personal, and we are grateful for the opportunity to share a little of our lives with you.

Becoming dads has been one of the greatest joys of our lives. When we welcomed Cecilia in December 2024, our world became brighter in ways we never could have imagined. Being her dads has shown us just how much love a family can hold, and we would be honored to share that love with another child.

We promise to honor their beginnings and speak about their birth family with love and respect. We would welcome the opportunity to build a relationship with you that feels comfortable and meaningful for everyone.

Whatever you decide, we wish you peace, strength, and support along the way.

With love,

Cory and Anthony
